Supporting the arts in Christchurch and District

In this issue:

- Hayloft exhibitions
- Broadstone Art Socy
- Craft Materials sale
- Gallery Saxon Square
- Vacancy Regent Centre
- Hayloft after Lockdown

We are so pleased to be able to tell you that LIVING CRAFTS in Christchurch Priory Church will take place next year from 11th—17th July.. This is a major event for CADArts and we hope it will rejuvenate the arts and crafts in Christchurch. Further information to follow!

It has been decided that we will not produce an Arts Diary or Directory for next year in view of the ongoing health crisis but we will be concentrating all our efforts in promoting and improving the web site including giving artists more presence on the site. We will also be introducing forums.

There will be a one tier membership of £15 for individuals .

BROADSTONE ART SOCIETY

Please note that as from 1st August, 2020 our former website - broadstoneartsociety.org is no longer active and should be deleted from any information you have.

I am pleased to say we have a brand new website – broadstoneartsociety.com which is now up and running. There are also entries on Facebook and Instagram.

Whilst we are not currently able to meet formally as a group because of COVID 19 restrictions , we are continuing to post art work on line and there will also be an online Exhibition running from 1st to 30th September. This will include a section on work done over the past year on the theme of Corfe Castle.

There will be a separate mini exhibition later in September of work members have done on the theme of the recent Wareham Forest Fire. Some people have used charcoal from the site to make their images. We hope to raise some money from this towards the restoration of the site.

We Made It! is about celebrating the work of six friends who all enjoy making their very different crafts and have all survived lockdown - here is the lockdown! Debbie Packer and Liz Westall are our jewellers and have been working hard to produce some gorgeous and new jewellery designs which are very different - Linda Cash our artist friend has been experimenting with new ways to do water colours and has had some amazing results (one of these was used as the background to our poster) - Jane Powell is the expert in Trolen weaving/braiding and hopefully will be showing you how it is done - brilliant for a multitude of uses! Anne Barnes produces unusual and beautiful Tiffany glass from lamps to window decorations and everything in between and lastly Pam Wadie who is a ceramic artist handpainting a variety of items from the sublime to the ridiculous (see chicken doing the splits on the poster!) Forgot to mention that Liz Westall is also a textile artist and knitter - we hope you will pop into the Hayloft to see us and remember it is never too early to shop for Christmas! Thanks also to Brian Wadie who also designed our poster.

Special Note for Group Leaders

If you have any updates regarding your groups which you would like mentioned in the next newsletter please send me details and I will include the information.

Many Thanks, Brenda

Also could I please remind Group Leaders that it would be helpful if they could forward the newsletter electronically to their own members. Although some leaders do do this I know that not all group members are seeing the newsletter. Thank you.

Kate Marr is opening a new shop in Saxons Square, Christchurch on Monday 24th August – a lovely art gallery! This is an on going pop up shop which features artwork by the artist Kate Marr @artist.katemarr www.katemarr.com. The shop will be open 10am-4pm on Mondays and Saturdays or by appointment. It is near the Travelodge.

THE WORLD IS WAITING.

Morning again. Over the horizon the sun comes up.

It bejewels drops of dew on sleepy buttercups.

On the pine tree celebrating life are the noisy rooks..

The world is waiting for us now we have woken up.

UPDATE ON SYLVIA'S RIDE! - She has raised an amazing £954. Congratulations

Well day 7 and we have smashed it today, with a ride of 28.2kms, taking the total to just over 150kms. I know, we only needed to do 100km but hey ho we were enjoying ourselves so much!!

It has been a great week and my team buddy has been a great support, think I may have got lost a few times without him!!

Thank you all so much for your donations we have raised £954 which far exceeds our expectations.

I had a phone call this afternoon, from Breast Cancer Now, one of the charities, thanking me for our support and how much it means to them especially right now. So thanks once again.

Best wishes to you all

Lorraine Finney was the first artist to exhibit at the Hayloft following lockdown and we are sure you will be interested to read what this was like for her and how successful it proved.

I was honoured to be able to hold my solo maiden exhibition at the Hayloft Gallery from 7th August - 20th August 2020.

The gallery is such a lovely intimate space and perfect for showcasing my fine art photography.

Covid 19 of course hampered the amount of visitors at one time but with sanitisers, a screen in front of the desk and space upstairs and down I managed to rotate visitors well. The weather hampered the amount of visitors who passed by on some days but generally it was fairly steady. It was harder to display leaflets as the Regent Center and Tourist Information Center were closed and other shops were reluctant to take posters. However most people were just passing by.

I'm blessed to have had so much support from CAD ARTS Members, Boscombe Camera Club, Bournemouth U3A Photography Group, Landscape Collective, friends, family and Charlie Waite (Light and Land Photographic Tours) that it really made my exhibition a wonderful memory and one which I will always cherish.

I am also honoured to be supporting the John Thornton Young Achievers Foundation who will be receiving a contribution from my sales to help all young people achieve their ambitions and dreams as I have achieved mine.

I feel that I have fulfilled my goal which was to show people the quality of my work and the different mediums that I print on and in so doing, inspired them to Bring Their Walls To Life.

I look forward to exhibiting next year!

Craftroom Clearout sales are on the 2nd Sunday of each month 10.30am - 12.30pm in the Druiitt Hall, Christchurch High Street. Entry is free.

This is an ideal opportunity to pick up items for your crafting needs from fellow crafters selling their surplus supplies at bargain prices or to take up a new hobby. It is also a great way to sell your own unwanted crafting items and earn some money.

There are spaces for new stall holders. Table hire is £4. To book a table please email janemartin88@hotmail.com or phone 01202 470261 and leave a message.

The next sale is Sunday 13 September.
